Final Comments

You made excellent contributions to class discussions, and an excellent effort on writing assignments.

Continue to work on bringing out the central themes of your writing, not allowing the details to overshadow the main points. You made significant improvement in this aspect of your writing this semester. Also, pay closer attention to phrasing and mechanical accuracy.

Oral Presentation

Your presentation on Panav Mistry's work toward creating a "fluid interface" made very effective use of video. However, you should have acknowledged the source of your video footage.

You demonstrated both knowledge of and enthusiasm about the topic of your presentation. You were well prepared (the technical glitch the first day was understandable, and I think you learned something valuable from that experience). You seem quite at ease in front of an audience. All in all, you came across as an effective and engaging speaker.
